

E. Dale Wilson

1934 -

Mr. Wilson started in the Kansas oilfields in 1956 dressing tools for White & Ellis. He began drilling for that company in 1959 as well as working as a roughneck. In 1964 through 1968, he drilled and managed a rig for Squeeks Drilling Company. In November of 1969, he started WW Drilling Company with partners Walter Williams and Howard Worley. He bought them out by 1977 and operated the business until 1997. Mr. Wilson has spent countless hours working on staff and as a volunteer at the Kansas Oil Museum since January, 1999.
